Your Consultation Journey

Here's what you can expect when you attend Smith Medical.

Not all patients receive a final diagnosis during the initial consultation, particularly when further investigations are required.

Investigations

Depending on your symptoms and previous results, further investigations may be recommended.

Lung Function Testing

Measure how well your lungs are working.

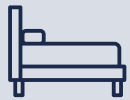

FeNO Testing

A simple breath test that helps assess airway inflammation.

Blood Tests

Used to help identify inflammation, allergy or other conditions

Sleep Studies

Home or clinic-based sleep tests assess sleep-related breathing disorders.

Imaging

Chest X-rays or CT scans to look in more detail.

Exercise Testing

Tests such as CPET to assess breathlessness and exercise capacity

Good to know

Not all patients require investigations. Any recommended tests will be discussed with you in detail.

After Your Consultation

Following your consultation, you will receive:

Detailed Clinic Letter

A summary of your history, findings and investigations.

Diagnostic Interpretation

Clear explanation of results and what they mean.

Tailored Recommendations

Personalised treatment or management advice.

Follow-up Plan

Recommendations and timing for follow-up care
